The man stopped him and went through his pockets and told him that he had been in the St. Joseph jail with Rasco, and had written a letter on Rasco. He told Schneider if he told anyone about this that he would burn him up.

Schneider said the man was about 6 feet tall, slim, and had on a yellow suit and a white hat.

Water Works for Barnard.

The citizens of Barnard are agitating among themselves the question of water works for their town. At the recent election held in Barnard, a town board was elected that was known to be in favor of the project. The board is composed of some good business men, and there is no reason why this much needed improvement could not be well planned for by these men.

Improving the Roads.

According to Clyde Trapp at Graham, the farmers on the road between Graham and Maitland are working hard to get the road in good condition after the recent overflow of the Nodaway. The washout places are being filled up and it will only be a few days until the road will be in its usual good condition.

Entertainment at Ravenwood.

The first and second grades of the Ravenwood schools, taught by Miss Bessie DeArmond and Miss Blackburn, gave a children's vaudeville at the opera house in Ravenwood Thursday night for the benefit of the school library. The entertainment was of a high order and was a decided credit to the teachers and their pupils.

Bit His Tongue Badly.

Ralph Wright, son of David Wright, had the misfortune to bite his tongue about half off last Saturday, says the Skidmore New Era. He was out in the field plowing, and one of the horses stepped out over a trace, and Ralph went to change it back, and in bending over to let the horse step back inside the trace the hock joint of the horse's hind leg hit him, accidentally, of course, under the chin, with the result that his tongue was badly injured. He is getting along nicely, however, at this time.

Letter is 97 Years Old.

Our esteemed citizen William Woods is the proud possessor of a letter that is 97 years old. The letter was written by John Spencer, a grandfather of Mr. Woods, at Newark, O., to William Spencer, his twin brother, at Alexandria, Pa., under date of April 23, 1815. It is written with pen and a light shade of purple ink on a sheet of plain paper. The letter covers one side of the paper and is so arranged that it makes six folds and is held in this shape by a small quantity of paste. On the blank side is written the address, which makes the letter and envelope combined in one sheet of paper. The address is written, "Mr. William Spencer, Huntingdon county, Pa., Alexandria Postoffice." The postmark, instead of being made with a rubber stamp, is written in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope and reads, "Newark, O., April 25." There is no stamp on the letter, but the figure 30 is written in one corner of the side used for the address, showing that 30 cents postage was required to carry the missive to its destination.

The letter speaks of a piece of land selling for $150, and would give the reader the impression that the price was rather high. The missive is about as interesting as any relic you may have the pleasure of seeing, and denotes a strong contrast between the present mode of living and the custome of that time. Needless to say Mr. Woods prizes the keepsake very highly.—Burlington Junction Post.

Will Leave for Colorado.

FIRST TIME HE HAS MOVED.

John Neal Lived on One Place for Fifty-Three Years.

J. M. Neal and family have moved to this city, to the residence property he has purchased at 722 North Walnut street. This is the first time Mr. Neal has moved his place of residence for fifty-three years, having lived on his farm, five and a half miles northeast of the city, that length of time. His father bought that farm in February, 1854, from John Frazee, father of W. H. Frazee and the late J. P. Frazee.

Which Statute Did He Break?

The other day a bystander on the street was watching Manager Beal Roseberry of the water company spinning along in his car, when suddenly a gray and white pigeon darted from somewhere in front of one of the front car wheels. Its beautiful tail feathers were pulled out and the poor pigeon was left fainting on the pavement. A boy also saw the accident, went to the rescue and carried it home with him. Mr. Roseberry did not know of the accident and does not yet, so far as we know. But did he break a staute? That's what we would like to know.

Attended Funeral at Bolckow.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, Miss Blanche Messick and Mrs. Charles Eckert went to Bolckow Thursday morning to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Dudley Messick, who died Wednesday evening.

REQUIREMENTS FOR BOARDING.

Normal President Issues Statement as to What is Expected at Summer Term.

The following is a statement from President H. K. Taylor of the Normal to those who expect to take student boarders during the summer session of the school:

The prospects are that the attendance of the summer session will be very large. I desire to call attention of all who expect to take student boarders to the following requirements:

Boys and girls are not permitted to room at the same place, unless they are brothers and sisters and there are no other roomers there. All places expecting to take student boarders must be reported to Mrs. A. R. Perrin, dean of women, either by mail or telephone, giving accommodations offered and the prices for same. All places taking student boarders are subject to the inspection of the president and dean of women at any time. All people taking student boarders must agree to conform to all the requirements of the Normal school in reference to same. I would urge upon persons having accommodations to report at once to Mrs. Perrin. The summer quarter will begin May 29th.

Some of the conditions that will be positively insisted upon are cleanliness, good ventilation, good sewerage and other matters of sanitation, as well as good and wholesome moral surroundings.

Assuring the people of the community that in making these qualifications we are laboring for their interests as well as those of the school, we ask the co-operation of all right thinking people in these matters of vital importance to the welfare of the institution.

Very truly,
H. K. TAYLOR.

OFF FOR THE DEBATE.

High School Students Went Away in Glorious Spirits Friday Evening to Attend Contest at Savannah.

Thirty-two high school students left Friday evening for Savannah for the debating contest between the Maryville high school and the Savannah school Friday night. They feel sure of victory, and went off with banners proudly waving.

The preliminary debate was held in the auditorium Thursday afternoon, and the student body and faculty are so proud of the debaters, Ralph Farmer, Ova Goff and Horace Gibson, that they are confident of winning. The speakers were trained for the contest by Professor Shepherd Leffler.

The subject of the debate is, "Resolved, that the initiative and referendum is promotive of sound legislation." The Maryville high school boys will speak for the affirmative.

In the preliminary debate Thursday Mr. Leffler took the negative, and, we understand, gave each speaker all he wanted to think about.

Those in the crowd going to Savannah Thursday were chaperoned by Miss Calla Varner and Miss Lillian Lindholm of the high school faculty, and were: Ralph Farmer, Ova Goff, Horace Gibson, Hilda Lahr, Grace DeMotte, Viva Cloud, Cathern Cox, Eleanor Smith, Dale Hoffman and Hildred Hanna of the senor class; Mildred Robinson, Vera Tilson, Blanche Skipps, Hazel Everhart, Helen Helpley, Hermione Fisher, Ed Gray, Theodore Robinson and Robert Brown of the mid-year senior class, and the others were: Marjorie Wilfley, Lucile Airy, Lola Wright, Goldie Roelofson, Selma Young, Edith Anderson, Vada Foland, Ernest Coler, Walter Dersch, George Wamsley, Jack Taylor, Jack Holt, Ray Foland and Harrison Gibson and Miss Ashby and Miss Thompson of the high school faculty.

INVEST IN BLAU-GAS

THE ALDERMANS MAKE INVESTMENT IN NEBRASKA CONCERN.

ON BOARD OF DIRECTORS

While C. J. Alderman and His Son Meril Are Directors, He Has No Intention of Removing Soon.

C. J. Alderman, president of the Alderman dry goods store of this city, has invested in the Nebraska Blau-Gas company, with offices at Omaha, and has been elected a director of that concern. His son, Meril J. Alderman, has also been selected as a director of the company.

Mr. Alderman stated Friday that he does not intend to move away from Maryville, and there would be no changes in the Alderman dry goods store. He said that he had merely made an investment, and will probably give part of his time to the new company, if it can be done without detriment to the store here.

The Nebraska Blau-Gas company is a subsidiary part of the Blau-Gas company of America, a $5,000,000 concern. The Nebraska company is capitalized at $2,000,000, of which $1,600,000 stock has been issued.

The board of directors elected is composed of C. J. Alderman and M. J. Alderman of Maryville, M. H. Alderman of Savannah, Mo.; Edward P. Snowden and Paul P. Freyman of St. Joseph, Hugo Lieber of New York City, and Frank S. Hastings of Indianapolis, Ind., president of the gas company of that city.

An Omaha paper, in speaking of the new concern, says:

A new industry has been located in Omaha, the Nebraska Blau-Gas company, buying a block of land for its plant on the Belt line and opening offices in the City National bank building. It has been negotiating with the industrial committee of the Commercial club two months and practically decided to locate here some time ago.

Blau-gas is new in this part of the country and is not quoted yet in freight tariffs. It is a liquidized gas delivered in steel containers eight inches thick and forty inches long. These tubes hold twenty to twenty-four pounds, and this retails at 10 cents a pound. Blau-gas was invented by Herman Blau of Augsburg, Germany, in 1904. It has so developed that it is in use throughout Europe, but principally in Austria, Bavaria and Germany. It is non-asphyxiating, is not affected by heat or cold and is generally set out doors in a cabinet, where it requires no attention and needs no expert to handle it. It is made from crude petroleum or gas oil and is used for illumination, heating or cooking, in suburban homes, farm houses and villages. Blau-gas starts business where city gas mains leave off.

Mr. Snowden states that there is absolutely no stock for sale; the proposition is entirely financed. The territory this company will cover is Nebraska, and distributing agents will be located in every county of that state.

The Omaha plant will be a six-unit plant with a capacity of 600 cylinders a day. It will be in operation by the middle or end of July. For it $74,000 worth of machinery has already been ordered. Most of this comes from abroad.

Steel cabinets for holding the containers will be made here, also the lighting fixtures and apparatus for this new illuminant.

The plant will employ thirty-five experts at the start and will necessitate a headquarters force of fifteen. Ten of these will come from Missouri, bringing their families here. Several are already here and have rented homes.

The plant will cover the larger part of the block bought, and will consist of one-story brick buildings, except the office building. Purchase of the ground for the Blau-gas company was made by H. A. Tukey, chairman of the Commercial club real estate committee.

TOO EARLY FOR THE GRASS?

An Explanation of Low Prices at the Maryville Sale.

Summary—Twenty-six females sold for $2,639; average, $101.16; 8 bulls sold for $802.50; average, $100.31; 34 head sold for $3,432.50; average, $100.95.

The joint public sale of registered Aberdeen Angus cattle which was held at Maryville on Tuesday of this week by W. W. Andrews of Maryville and C. D. and E. F. Caldwell of Burlington Junction, did not receive the support it deserved.

The offering was made up of good honest cattle sold by reliable men and with all representations backed by a guarantee which assured the protection of every buyer. Those who were in attendance at the sale seemed to take the cattle at a price, but that price was so much below the most conservative expectations of the sellers that the auction was a gross disappointment. The only logical explanation of the conservatism among buyers is that the sale was held a little too early for an abundance of grass to be in sight. A lack of feed caused farmers and breeders to be more than usually conservative.

The top price of the sale was $190 paid by George Jones of Burlington Junction, Mo., for the 6-year-old Black Bird cow Summer Leas Blackbird 2d and bull calf. This was one of the many fashionably bred animals of the offering which possessed superior individual merit. The top price on the bulls was $165, paid by W. R. Webb of Bendena, Kan., for the November yearling bull Black Set Lad C.

Mrs. G. B. McArthur of Pickering was in Maryville Thursday and Friday on business, and also visited with her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. J. Honnold.

Frank Thompson of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Bellows Wednesday.

EXPERT ADVISERS FOR FARMERS

Every County Will Have Chance to Get Man by Paying Three-Quarters of Expenses.

A plan whereby any county in Missouri, by paying three-fourths of the expenses, can have an expert agricultural adviser to help the farmers make the farm pay better has been evolved by the Missouri college of agriculture. The department of farm management has the matter in charge, and its head, D. H. Doane, is preparing to take up this work as soon as possible. The plan has been tried most successfully in one or two instances, and it is thought will "make good" in the state. Of the plan Mr. Doane says:

"The board of curators of the university April 2 authorized the college of agriculture to place a limited number of trained agricultural men in counties or localities during the present year.

"The men who will carry on this work will be known as country administration men and will be under the direction of the college of agriculture, but will devote their entire time to giving instruction and advice to the farmers in the communities in which they are employed.

"The college of agriculture will pay 25 per cent of each man's salary, the country or community receiving his services 75 per cent.

"The location of the few men who will be started this coming year will be determined by the interest shown and support promised by the citizens of the community concerned. Each section of the state will be given an opportunity to ask for the services of one of these men. It is hoped that ultimately every community will employ a county administration man.

"Farmers, bankers, commercial clubs and individuals may contribute to the support of this county adviser. The term of the contract must be for three years and the money must be guaranteed by a reputable financial firm, or individuals, to cover the period of the contract.

"For the past six years farm management work has been carried on in Missouri for the purpose of determining the problems and their solution that confront the farmers of this state. Careful investigations were made in reference to failures and successes as found on our farms. For the past two years results of these investigations have been given a practical test in nearly half of our 114 counties. These tests have been the successful management of farms.

"Farm management has increased the profits and built up the fertility of the soil. The results have been responsible for the great number of requests made for the services of our men. This demand has become so great that it is absolutely impossible to meet it. Consequently, this plan has been adopted as a possible way to reach a greater number of farmers with the instruction that has proven so profitable.

"Statements made by farmers who have been carrying on the work are the best testimony that could be offered. During farmers' week at Columbia one man said he had made $1,800 more than he had ever made before, as the result of farm management work on his farm. Another stated that he had made $1,500 more, and a third said: 'I moved to my farm three years ago and the first year's total income was a little over $400; the second year I started with the farm management work and my income was over $900; last year the income amounted to over $1,200.'

"These are but a few of the many statements that farmers are making all over the state of Missouri in reference to what business farm management, under the direction of the college, has done for them."

Letters have been sent out over the state to every community. Those counties or communities which show the greatest interest will get the first men, and the late ones may have to wait, as there are at present not enough men thoroughly prepared for this work to fill the demands of every county in Missouri.

Turned Down an Offer.

Miss Alma Nash, director of the Missouri Ladies' Military band, has received an invitation from the Boosters' club of St. Joseph to furnish music for the club on the evening of April 20. Miss Nash was compelled to refuse the invitation because that is the band's date for a concert at Bedford, Ia.

Sunday School Social.

The regular monthly social meeting of the First M. E. church Sunday school was held in the church parlors Friday night with a large attendance. The evening's entertainment was in charge of the classes of Mr. C. C. Corwin, Mr. L. M. Strader and Professor Harry Miller. Two piano numbers were given by Miss Wall of Grant City, and readings were given by Mr. Chester White and Mr. James Carpenter. Professor Harry Miller introduced those on the program and his speeches were a delightful part of the program. He propounded some useful Bible questions, too, and everybody took a part in the discussion it elicited.

Entertained Choir.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crawford entertained the members of the Presbyterian choir at their home Thursday evening after rehearsal. Mr. Crawford is director of the choir, and the pleasant evening was planned in recognition of their fine work on Easter Sunday—hoping that they would do still better in the future, we presume. A luncheon was served after music and games, Mrs. Glenn Goff assisting the hostess. The members of the choir are: Mr. Crawford, Miss Jennie Garrett, Mrs. George Eaton, Miss Lillian Lindholm, Miss Lois Petty, Mrs. C. D. Leffler, Miss Helen Leffler, Mr. Frank Murray, Mr. F. M. Petty, Mr. Phillip Parcher, Mr. Fred Lewis, Mr. Glenn Goff.

Missionary Society Meeting.

The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society of the First Presbyterian church met with Mrs. J. A. Ford of South Main street Thursday afternoon. The devotional service was led by Mrs. G. H. Colbert. The subject was "Happiness." Roll call was responded to by items from the Freedmen's work. Two excellent papers were read, one by Mrs. A. B. Gibson on "The Freedmen," and the other by Mrs. B. F. Duncan on "India." A detailed report of the woman's Presbyterian meeting held at Grant City last week was given by Mrs. W. H. Crawford, who was sent to the meeting as a delegate. During the business session plans for raising money to be used for mission work were discussed. An unusually large attendance of the members prolonged the social hour. Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. H. Crawford, Mrs. H. T. Crane and Mrs. S. C. Hutchison. One new member was added, Mrs. J. BIG STORM IN IOWA.

Creston and Vicinity Was Visited by a Severe Thunder and Hail Storm This Morning.

The depot at Lenox, Ia., was struck by lightning at 3 o'clock Friday morning during a terrific thunder and hail storm that visited Creston and vicinity. The depot was burned to the ground and a box car was put into use for a depot by train time Friday morning. Everything about the station was burned excepting about two feet of the platform. Ten barrels of gasoline exploded at the depot and shocked the whole town.

At Creston the hail was much more severe than that which fell farther south, and many stones as large as hen eggs fell.

SWAT THE FLY—SWAT NOW!

One Now Means Nine Million in August, Dr. W. S. Wheeler Says.

The matter of keeping the city clean and sanitary is one which should engage the attention of all citizens. Killing the little housefly is one of the most effective means of accomplishing this end. Right now, before the extremely warm weather sets in, is the time to clean up, thus destroying the eggs and eliminating the flies before they're hatched.

These are the beliefs held by Dr. W. S. Wheeler, health commissioner of Kansas City, according to the Times.

A housefly, according to several authorities, multiplies itself 120 times in two weeks. It is clear then that for every fly you kill now you will receive an enormously large amount of interest in August. The same authorities give one fly a carrying capacity of more than three million germs.

The fly thrives on manure piles and other objectionable filth. Here the female lays her eggs, and here the young are hatched. Their feet are of a spongy material and are capable of collecting filth and germs. The fly you see walking about on your food may be wiping germs and filth from its feet.

Flies have a great deal to do with the spread of infectious diseases. These diseases only attack people when a germ is swallowed. Typhoid fever is an example. The fly comes from a typhoid patient to the table of a healthy man. He puts his feet in a glass or on a bit of bread. The germs are transferred. A day or two and the well man is ill.

Sanitation will kill the fly. It is averse to cleanliness. Chloride of lime should be used in the refuse bins. Flypaper and a swatter should be kept in the house and used. Food should be screened and fresh vegetables, fruit and meats washed thoroughly before being cooked. Do away with the litter and trash that collects in the back yards and cellars.

A peculiar fact about the fly is that it dislikes several odors. For example, sprigs of mignonette and honeysuckle will keep him away from rooms. Perfume acts as a poison, and it will not light on a person who uses it.

Campaigns against flies have been started in nearly all of the large cities of the country. Physicians in Kansas City say that at least 75 per cent of the deaths caused by typhoid fever can be averted if every house, all stables, yards and streets are thoroughly cleaned before the summer.

And remember, when you swat a fly now, you are killing nine million in August.

SHOULD BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY

Childish Mind, Groping in Darkness, Is Craving for Information That Is Denied It.

Every trace of useful information is carefully concealed from the very young child. A rattle, or at most a rubber doll, is its only plaything. As it grows older it is very slowly and gradually introduced to the various forms of the animal kingdom. Of the mysteries of numbers and of languages it has as yet no conception. Its constant questions are for the most part answered "humorously" and hence incorrectly, or they are not answered at all. This eternal "humor" is most galling of all. Why should a human infant be such an irresistible joke? The lower animals take their young seriously and train them from the start with a very definite purpose in view. Yet their possibilities are infinitesimal as compared with those of the average baby. And we sit calmly by and enjoy the "humor" of childhood and insist that the child is enjoying itself also, even though its little soul may be thirsting for information which is laughingly denied it. And we continue to put off the inevitable day when the child will have to take life seriously and hence, according to our tradition, sadly.

One important point which is quite overlooked by the upholders of the brainless child is the fact that nonsense and silliness are just as taxing to the infant mind as useful information would be. It requires no more mental effort to realize that A is A than to grasp the extraordinary fact that a mass of brownish softness is a "fuzzy ittle Teddy bear, yes it is." In fact, the letter A has a distinct advantage. And at a more advanced age it is certainly less puzzling to be told that five and five make ten than to have one's own respectable pink toes described as a series of pigs going to market or entering into the various other activities of life.—Sigmund Spaeth in Harper's Weekly.

THE FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair and Make It Grow.

A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden Sage and Sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color, in a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as Nature intended it should. ●

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give your money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance.

NO RECOGNITION FOR REBELS NOW

Unwarranted Killing of American Gunner Arouses Indignation.

WAS VIOLATION OF RULES OF WAR

Government May Take Measures to Obtain Reparation, Though no Immediate Action is Contemplated.

Washington, April 12.—The indignation of state department officials over the killing of Thomas Fountain, the American gunner, who was captured by the rebels at Parral, will prejudice any attempt on the part of the Mexican rebels to obtain recognition of belligerent rights, so necessary to a successful conduct of their campaign.

The state department did everything in its power to prevent the execution, which, in its opinion, was in violation of the rules of war of all civilized countries.

Call It Murder.

A telegram just received from American Consul Letcher at Chihuahua, said the consul had protested to the rebel chiefs against the execution of the death sentence against Fountain not only at Chihuahua, but at Parral, where the man was arrested.

In the opinion of the state department, the killing was deliberate murder. But it is recalled that in his proclamation, President Taft expressly warned Americans against participating in the revolution on either side, indicating plainly that they would do so at their own risk.

That, however, does not preclude the American government from taking measures to obtain reparation. Meanwhile there does not appear to be any immediate action in contemplation.

Orozco Denies Hostility.

It is regarded as rather a coincidence that at the time of Fountain's death, Orozco, the rebel commander-in-chief, directed a long statement to the state department. This might be regarded as the forerunner of an application for the recognition by the United States of the belligerency of the Mexican rebels.

In it Orozco expressly denied the existence of any feeling hostile to Americans on the part of the rebels and repudiated the proclamation which was widely circulated along the border recently bitterly attacking the Americans in Mexico.

To Head Off Rebels.

Nogales, Ariz., April 12.—To head off rebels the revolutionary commanders in Chihuahua may send into Sonora, the Mexican government now is concentrating a large force at Naco and Agua Prieta.

MISSOURI FRUIT CROP KILLED

One Grower Believes all Worth Shipping This Year Can be Put In One Car.

Columbia, Mo., April 12.—Reports from all parts of Missouri to W. W. Chenoweth, secretary of the state board of horticulture, indicate that the fruit crop of the state has been badly injured. The peach crop is almost entirely killed, even in the Brandsville-Koshkonong-Fruitville district, which is the only large commercial peach raising district in Missouri. Reports from conservative fruit men in that section indicate that very little fruit will be shipped out of the district this year. One man says he believes that all of the fruit worth shipping this year can be put into one car.

CHEMISTRY CLASS IN DANGER

Chicago, April 12.—Prof. Arden Johnson of Depau university was severely burned and 25 students, who were attending class, were thrown into excitement by fire which followed an explosion of chemicals in a laboratory at the university.

Prof. Johnson was burned on the hands and arms in attempting to extinguish the flames and was removed to a hospital. His condition is not dangerous. Firemen prevented a spread of the flames.

OPEN CONVENTION WITH FIGHT

OPPOSING CHAIRMEN TRY TO BEGIN AT SAME TIME

Troops Used in Michigan to Preserve Order While Republican Committee Members Enter Hall.

Bay City, Mich., April 12.—The opposing chairmen attempted at the same moment to open the state Republican convention here and a fight followed.

W. D. Gordon of Midland, a Roosevelt committeeman, sprang to the stage and attempted to address the convention. He was hurled from the stage by J. F. Cromer of Marquette, a Taft man. Police and militia at this juncture forced back 100 men who sought to engage in the fight precipitated by Gordon and Cromer. All attempts to quiet the excited delegates seemed useless.

While troops held the front entrance to the armory against a crowd of 1,800 delegates and contested delegates to the convention, members of the state central committee were admitted to the building through a small side entrance.

The Taft members were headed by Robert H. Shields of Houghton, acting chairman and were followed into the armory by Chairman Knox and ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, who also came through the side entrance.

The committee then elected Shields temporary chairman.

Roosevelt leaders conferred at a downtown hotel several squares distant, and prepared to go to the convention and seat their temporary chairman, Truman Newberry, of Detroit.

Militia, police and sergeants-at-arms received their instructions from the opposing factions. Shields ordered them to admit only those delegates with cards bearing the signature of Secretary Paul H. King of the state committee. Knox instructed the guards to allow no one to enter unless he carried a card bearing his signature.

The final battle will take place in Chicago. The Roosevelt delegates say their claims to the legality of the proceedings are in accord with the statutes of the state pertaining to party elections.

The Taft adherents base their claims on the fact of a majority of the state central committee and the subsequent result of their convention.

DRILLED A SAFE TO GET OPIUM

Frisco Officials Confiscate $40,000 Worth of Drug Claimed by Canton Bank.

San Francisco, April 12.—Opium valued at $40,000 was confiscated here by officials of the state board of pharmacy, who had to drill a safe to get it.

The consignment is all that could be found of $7,000,000 worth of opium which was on hand in San Francisco when the law prohibiting its importation went into effect three years ago. The time limit set for disposal of the opium on hand recently expired. After officials of the Canton bank, which claimed the consignment, had refused to open the safe, it was drilled.

MAJOR GEN. GRANT HAS PASSED AWAY

Death Came to Commander in New York at Age of 56.

SON OF FAMOUS WAR GENERAL

Was Graduated From West Point in 1871, While His Father Was Yet President—Would Have Retired May 30.

New York, April 12.—Maj. Gen. Frederick D. Grant, son of the famous general of the Civil war and himself commander of the department of the East, died at the Hotel Buckingham in this city about 12:40 a. m.

In 1908 Frederick D. Grant, the late president's eldest son, whose likeness to his father was weirdly striking, was put in command of the military department of the East, with headquarters at Governors Island, New York.

Had not Gen. Leonard Wood been allowed to organize the Rough Riders, and thereby make his splash in the war with Spain, Gen. Grant would have been then the ranking officer of the army and, very probably, chief of staff. As it was, he would have retired on Decoration day, this year, whereas Gen. Wood will remain at the head of the army for 14 years, or until 1924.

Saw War When a Child.

May 30 is a date memorable in the Grant family before Decoration day originated, and even before the war opened. Gen. U. S. Grant remembered it each year of that struggle, because it was the birthday of "little Fred," who was 11 years old when the war opened.

Frederick D. Grant was graduated from West Point in 1871, while his father was president, and resigned 20 years later at the close of eight years' service on the frontier. Then, after serving as minister to Austria and as police commissioner of New York, he got back into the regular army by entering the war with Spain as a volunteer colonel.

In Field With Father.

He was 56 years old and had deserted the party of his father to become a Democrat. His brother, Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., is a Republican, having been a delegate to three recent conventions.

In Gen. Grant's memoirs he pays a tribute to Frederick's courage. The son was in the field with his father, and for an hour one day was under a heavy fire without showing the least intimation of fear. As the boy was only 12 or 13 years old at the time, the father's pride was stirred at the exhibition of his courage.

SHERIFF HELD FOR KILLING

Is Accused With Two Others of Manslaughter—Charges Grew Out of Killing of Roy Blunt.

Omaha, Neb., April 12.—Charges of manslaughter have been filed against John Briggs, chief of police of South Omaha; Gus Hyers, sheriff of Lancaster county, and John Trouton, deputy state fire warden, by W. M. Jamieson, county attorney of Sarpy county, at Papillion.

The charges arise out of the killing of Roy Blunt, the farmer who was forced by three escaped convicts from the penitentiary at Lincoln to aid them in their attempted getaway.

Warrants have been issued for the arrest of the three defendants. They will be arraigned at Papillion.

JOKING BY MAIL IS DANGEROUS

Two Rhode Island Humorists Who Tried it, Under Arrest for Using Mails to Defraud.

Providence, R. I., April 12.—John Riley and Robert Hammond are under arrest here charged with using the mails to defraud.

It is alleged that they sought to play a practical joke on Thomas Shanley, a fellow employe, by inserting a want ad in a daily newspaper advising Shanley to communicate with a fictitious party. He wrote and they secured a deposit of $500 for assistance in winning an imaginary fortune.

Hannibal's Interurban Sold.

All accounts of the railroad were adjusted and paid in full by John C. Mills of Kirksville, receiver for the road. A deed was made for the road to Henry Funk, a banker of Clarence, Mo. Mr. Funk said he had no future plans for the road at present.

Rush Money Trust Inquiry.

Washington, April 12.—Prodded to action by charges of Wall street domination, the house "money trust" investigating committee announced that hearings will begin next Wednesday. It is understood that Comptroller Murray will open the oral testimony.

Roosevelt Coming West.

Lincoln, Neb., April 12.—Positive announcement was made at Col. Roosevelt's Nebraska headquarters here that the ex-president would tour the state on the eve of the presidential primary, April 19.

PLENTY OF IRON ORE IS IN SIGHT

Mine Expert Brings Interesting Figures Before House Committee.

TRUST DOES NOT CONTROL ALL

Says Birmingham District Contains Vast Areas as Yet Undeveloped and Available to Outside Concerns.

Washington, April 12.—Joseph Sellwood, an ore mine expert of Duluth, told the house steel investigation committee that the Lake Superior ore region contains 1,400,000,000 tons of available ore of which about 550,000,000 tons, excluding the Hill lease ores, are controlled by the United States Steel corporation.

Don H. Bacon, formerly of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, declared that there were at present 400,000,000 tons of available ore owned by that company, now a subsidiary of the steel corporation. The Birmingham district, he said, contained vast areas of undeveloped ore.

"To compete in the steel business," said Mr. Bacon, "it would be necessary to have a plant with a capacity of 50,000 tons of pig iron a month. To make that amount and run for a period of 40 years would require 72,000,000 tons of ore. But I would want a guaranty of ore for 100 years, which would require 180,000,000 tons of ore."

Ore is in Sight.

"Could you get that ore today?" asked Representative Gardner. "That is, could you find that amount of ore, not now held by some other steel companies?"

"Yes," was the reply. "I think I could find it in the Birmingham district and such an amount could be found in one body and not scattered over separate areas."

"Yes, doubtless such areas or ore are available in what are known as the Hill lease lands to be surrendered by the steel corporation," Mr. Bacon replied. He further said lower grade ores are abundant all over the country and that modern invention and improved processes of manufacture were gradually reducing the metallic percent necessary in ore for manufacturing steel.

Lower Grade Ores Valuable.

As these processes progress the lower grade ores not now of value become useful, he added.

Ask as to the amount of ore existing in the area included under the Hill lease, Mr. Sellwood said it was at least 250,000,000 tons.

In this he included all the ore land owned by J. J. Hill and the property owned by others which went in on the lease to the steel corporation. This lease has been cancelled by the corporation, expiring in 1915, when all that ore will be available to concerns outside the steel corporation.

BREWSTER HEIRS LOSE $20,000

Attempt to Get Farm Deeded to Faithful Friend Ends in Defeat for Relatives.

Minneapolis, Kan., April 12.—A farm in Ottawa county, valued at $20,000, deeded to Frank Jaquier by Daniel W. Brewster, on agreement that Jaquier care for Brewster the last years of his life, and later claimed by a niece and nephew of Brewster, was awarded to Jaquier by a jury in the district court.

The heirs made an effort to prove that Brewster was of unsound mind when he gave Jaquier the farm, but were unsuccessful.

Leavenworth Cleanup First.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 12.—Leavenworth will be a week ahead of the other Kansas towns in regard to "cleanup" day. Mayor Deege has issued a proclamation declaring that Saturday, April 13, be the official "cleanup" day. Everyone is urged to see that all tin cans and trash is gathered so that the city can have it removed.

To Select Twain Memorial.

Hannibal, Mo., April 12.—Sculptors from all parts of the United States and Europe, many with national and international reputations, have submitted designs for the memorial monument to Mark Twain to be erected in Riverview park overlooking the Mississippi river at Hannibal. The design for the monument will be selected April 15.

First Health Weddings Held.

Chicago, April 12.—Two marriages at which the contracting parties first presented certificates of health to the officiating minister were performed in Chicago. They were the first to be performed according to the idea recently brought forth by Dean Sumner, pastor of the Cathedral of SS. Peter and Paul.

Mrs. La Follette Will Help.

San Francisco, April 12.—Thomas K. Kase, president of the state La Follette league, announced that Mrs. La Follette would conduct a speech-making campaign in California in the interest of her husband's candidacy for the Republican nomination for president.

HAS BECOME MATTER OF JEST

Woman's Promise to "Obey" Husband, in Marriage Service, Perfunctory and Without Meaning.

With the advent of the female suffrage movement (the teaching of which cult may, when the movement gets somewhat stronger, be introduced into the common school system of the country) the word "obey" in the ordinary marriage service, already in disfavor with the leaders of the movement, will be shaken out of the prayer book, to be heard no more on sea or shore. As it is now the scant recognition this word receives after the wedding service is over is entirely perfunctory. James Douglas in London Opinion—in England the revolt against the word obey has already reached formidable proportions—says that the use and abuse of the word is continual and unblushing perjury in the courts of heaven—where marriages are made. To this he adds: "And nobody worries over it. It is taken for granted. Archdeacons wink at it, bishops chuckle over it, deans crack jokes over it. And with good reason, for their own wives break the vow of obedience as gayly as the wives of laymen. Is there one clergyman who will venture to proclaim from the pulpit that his wife invariably and unconditionally obeys him all the year round? We know there is not. How, then, can the clergy expect from laywomen what they dare not expect from their own helpmeets? As a rule, the vicar's wife is a masterful dame, and it is well known that sufferance is a badge of the cloth. Probably there are more henpecked husbands in orders than out of them. The traditional curate is a mild and timid being, who is born to obey."

HOW MOUNTAINS WERE NAMED

Interesting to Trace Derivation of the Famous Ranges of This Country.

Adirondacks: Derived from the Canienga (Mohawk) Iroquois language, in which the original form is ratirontaks, meaning "bark eaters."

Allegheny: A corruption of the Delaware Indian name for Allegheny and Ohio rivers, the meaning of the name being lost.

Appalachian: The name was given by the Spaniards under DeSoto, who derived it from the name of a neighboring tribe, the Apalachi. Brinton holds its radical to be the Muscogee apala, "great sea," or "great ocean," and that apalache is a compound of this word with the Muscogee personal participle "chi," and means "those by the sea."

Blue Ridge: So called from the hue which frequently envelops its distant summits.

Catskill: The mountains were called katsbergs by the Dutch, from the number of wildcats found in them, and the creek, which flows from the mountains, was called Katerskill, "tomcats creek."

Ozark: The aux arcs was said to refer to the bends in White river, and was applied to the Ozark mountains through which the river pursues a wandering course—in other words, to the mountains at the bends of the river.

Sierre Nevada: A Spanish term signifying "snow-clad range."—Geological Survey.

Surely Professional.

It was well known that the late Dr P. H. Brascome, though he demanded and got large fees from his wealthy clients, gave much of his valuable time to treating poor patients, says the New York Herald. One case of a laboring man came under his notice and he not only treated the man, visiting him every day and providing the necessary medicines free, but he managed also to see to it that the laborer's family did not suffer for food while the man was ill.

When the man got well again and went to work he sent out of his meager wages a grateful letter and enclosed a two dollar bill, which Dr Brascome, rather than offend the grateful man by returning, put into his pocket.

One of his colleagues happened to be present at the time and started to reproach him for being so "unprofessional" as to accept so small a fee.

"Why," said Dr. Brascome, "I took all the poor devil had. I guess that was professional enough."

The Circus Auctioneer.

An auctioneer who had grown gray in the work had been urged repeatedly to retire.

"Not till I get a chance to auction off a circus," he said. "That is the height of my ambition. It is the point every good auctioneer works for. Not many attain it, because there are not enough circuses to go around, but so long as a man wields the hammer he clings to the hope of getting a fling at a circus some day. I can't explain the fascination.

"Men who have sold circuses at auction tell me that it requires no more ability to sell lions and elephants than bonbon dishes. Maybe they are right, but circus managers must think otherwise, for of all the people who have goods to dispose of at auction the circus man is most particular about the qualifications and experience of his auctioneer."

The citizens of Barnard are agitating among themselves the question of water works for their town. At the recent election held in Barnard, a town board was elected that was known to be in favor of the project. The board is composed of some good business men, and there is no reason why this much needed improvement could not be well planned for by these men.

Improving the Roads.

According to Clyde Trapp at Graham, the farmers on the road between Graham and Maitland are working hard to get the road in good condition after the recent overflow of the Nodaway. The washout places are being filled up and it will only be a few days until the road will be in its usual good condition.

Entertainment at Ravenwood.

The first and second grades of the Ravenwood schools, taught by Miss Bessie DeArmond and Miss Blackburn, gave a children's vaudeville at the opera house in Ravenwood Thursday night for the benefit of the school library. The entertainment was of a high order and was a decided credit to the teachers and their pupils.

Bit His Tongue Badly.

Ralph Wright, son of David Wright, had the misfortune to bite his tongue about half off last Saturday, says the Skidmore New Era. He was out in the field plowing, and one of the horses stepped out over a trace, and Ralph went to change it back, and in bending over to let the horse step back inside the trace the hock joint of the horse's hind leg hit him, accidentally, of course, under the chin, with the result that his tongue was badly injured. He is getting along nicely, however, at this time.

Letter is 97 Years Old.

Our esteemed citizen William Woods is the proud possessor of a letter that is 97 years old. The letter was written by John Spencer, a grandfather of Mr. Woods, at Newark, O., to William Spencer, his twin brother, at Alexandria, Pa., under date of April 23, 1815. It is written with pen and a light shade of purple ink on a sheet of plain paper. The letter covers one side of the paper and is so arranged that it makes six folds and is held in this shape by a small quantity of paste. On the blank side is written the address, which makes the letter and envelope combined in one sheet of paper. The address is written, "Mr. William Spencer, Huntingdon county, Pa., Alexandria Postoffice." The postmark, instead of being made with a rubber stamp, is written in the lower left-hand corner of the envelope and reads, "Newark, O., April 25." There is no stamp on the letter, but the figure 30 is written in one corner of the side used for the address, showing that 30 cents postage was required to carry the missive to its destination.

The letter speaks of a piece of land selling for $150, and would give the reader the impression that the price was rather high. The missive is about as interesting as any relic you may have the pleasure of seeing, and denotes a strong contrast between the present mode of living and the custome of that time. Needless to say Mr. Woods prizes the keepsake very highly.—Burlington Junction Post.

Will Leave for Colorado.

Miss Mary Schwarts, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Joseph Bluel, and her brother, John Schwartz, left Thursday morning for Denver, Col., where she will make her home with her sister, Mrs. Ida B. Schaffer.

FIRST TIME HE HAS MOVED.

John Neal Lived on One Place for Fifty-Three Years.

J. M. Neal and family have moved to this city, to the residence property he has purchased at 722 North Walnut street. This is the first time Mr. Neal has moved his place of residence for fifty-three years, having lived on his farm, five and a half miles northeast of the city, that length of time. His father bought that farm in February, 1854, from John Frazee, father of W. H. Frazee and the late J. P. Frazee.

Which Statute Did He Break?

The other day a bystander on the street was watching Manager Beal Roseberry of the water company spinning along in his car, when suddenly a gray and white pigeon darted from somewhere in front of one of the front car wheels. Its beautiful tail feathers were pulled out and the poor pigeon was left fainting on the pavement. A boy also saw the accident, went to the rescue and carried it home with him. Mr. Roseberry did not know of the accident and does not yet, so far as we know. But did he break a staute? That's what we would like to know.

Attended Funeral at Bolckow.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Brown, Miss Blanche Messick and Mrs. Charles Eckert went to Bolckow Thursday morning to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Dudley Messick, who died Wednesday evening.

Normal President Issues Statement as to What is Expected at Summer Term.

The following is a statement from President H. K. Taylor of the Normal to those who expect to take student boarders during the summer session of the school:

The prospects are that the attendance of the summer session will be very large. I desire to call attention of all who expect to take student boarders to the following requirements:

Boys and girls are not permitted to room at the same place, unless they are brothers and sisters and there are no other roomers there. All places expecting to take student boarders must be reported to Mrs. A. R. Perrin, dean of women, either by mail or telephone, giving accommodations offered and the prices for same. All places taking student boarders are subject to the inspection of the president and dean of women at any time. All people taking student boarders must agree to conform to all the requirements of the Normal school in reference to same. I would urge upon persons having accommodations to report at once to Mrs. Perrin. The summer quarter will begin May 29th.

Some of the conditions that will be positively insisted upon are cleanliness, good ventilation, good sewerage and other matters of sanitation, as well as good and wholesome moral surroundings.

Assuring the people of the community that in making these qualifications we are laboring for their interests as well as those of the school, we ask the co-operation of all right thinking people in these matters of vital importance to the welfare of the institution.

Very truly,
H. K. TAYLOR.

OFF FOR THE DEBATE.

High School Students Went Away in Glorious Spirits Friday Evening to Attend Contest at Savannah.

Thirty-two high school students left Friday evening for Savannah for the debating contest between the Maryville high school and the Savannah school Friday night. They feel sure of victory, and went off with banners proudly waving.

The preliminary debate was held in the auditorium Thursday afternoon, and the student body and faculty are so proud of the debaters, Ralph Farmer, Ova Goff and Horace Gibson, that they are confident of winning. The speakers were trained for the contest by Professor Shepherd Leffler.

The subject of the debate is, "Resolved, that the initiative and referendum is promotive of sound legislation." The Maryville high school boys will speak for the affirmative.

In the preliminary debate Thursday Mr. Leffler took the negative, and, we understand, gave each speaker all he wanted to think about.

Those in the crowd going to Savannah Thursday were chaperoned by Miss Calla Varner and Miss Lillian Lindholm of the high school faculty, and were: Ralph Farmer, Ova Goff, Horace Gibson, Hilda Lahr, Grace DeMotte, Viva Cloud, Cathern Cox, Eleanor Smith, Dale Hoffman and Mildred Hanna of the senor class; Mildred Robinson, Vera Tilson, Blanche Shipps, Hazel Everhart, Helen Helpley, Hermione Fisher, Ed Gray, Theodore Robinson and Robert Brown of the mid-year senior class, and the others were: Marjorie Wilfley, Lucile Airy, Lola Wright, Goldie Roelofson, Selma Young, Edith Anderson, Vada Foland, Ernest Coler, Walter Dersch, George Wamsley, Jack Taylor, Jack Holt, Ray Foland and Harrison Gibson and Miss Ashby and Miss Thompson of the high school faculty.

Visiting Their Children.

Mr and Mrs. D. C. Pierpoint of South Vine street have gone to Maitland to visit their daughter, Mrs. Earl Jester. They will spend the coming three months visiting among their children, Mrs. Jester, Mrs. B. C. Miles of Fillmore, Mrs. W. V. Bishop of Ravenwood, Mrs. R. E. Ferguson of Elmo and Dr. J. E. Pierpoint of Skidmore.

Visiting Friends Here.

Miss Tillie Quast and her sister, Mrs. Reifenrath and children arrived in Maryville Thursday from Crofton, Neb., where they have been living the past three years. After a visit here with friends they will leave for Canada, where they will make their home.

C. W. Neil of Los Angeles, Cal., arrived in the city Friday for a visit with his sisters, Mrs. J. Arthur Wray and Miss Clara Neil. He will manage the Neil farm, south of Pickering, the coming year.

INVEST IN BLAU-GAS

THE ALDERMANS MAKE INVESTMENT IN NEBRASKA CONCERN.

ON BOARD OF DIRECTORS

While C. J. Alderman and His Son Meril Are Directors, He Has No Intention of Removing Soon.

C. J. Alderman, president of the Alderman dry goods store of this city, has invested in the Nebraska Blau-Gas company, with offices at Omaha, and has been elected a director of that concern. His son, Meril J. Alderman, has also been selected as a director of the company.

Mr. Alderman stated Friday that he does not intend to move away from Maryville, and there would be no changes in the Alderman dry goods store. He said that he had merely made an investment, and will probably give part of his time to the new company, if it can be done without detriment to the store here.

The Nebraska Blau-Gas company is a subsidiary part of the Blau-Gas company of America, a $5,000,000 concern. The Nebraska company is capitalized at $2,000,000, of which $1,600,000 stock has been issued.

The board of directors elected is composed of C. J. Alderman and M. J. Alderman of Maryville, M. H. Alderman of Savannah, Mo.; Edward P. Snowden and Paul P. Freyman of St. Joseph, Hugo Lieber of New York City, and Frank S. Hastings of Indianapolis, Ind., president of the gas company of that city.

An Omaha paper, in speaking of the new concern, says:

A new industry has been located in Omaha, the Nebraska Blau-Gas company, buying a block of land for its plant on the Belt line and opening offices in the City National bank building. It has been negotiating with the industrial committee of the Commercial club two months and practically decided to locate here some time ago.

Blau-gas is new in this part of the country and is not quoted yet in freight tariffs. It is a liquidized gas delivered in steel containers eight inches thick and forty inches long. These tubes hold twenty to twenty-four pounds, and this retails at 10 cents a pound. Blau-gas was invented by Herman Blau of Augsburg, Germany, in 1904. It has so developed that it is in use throughout Europe, but principally in Austria, Bavaria and Germany. It is non-asphyxiating, is not affected by heat or cold and is generally set out doors in a cabinet, where it requires no attention and needs no expert to handle it. It is made from crude petroleum or gas oil and is used for illumination, heating or cooking, in suburban homes, farm houses and villages. Blau-gas starts business where city gas mains leave off.

Mr. Snowden states that there is absolutely no stock for sale; the proposition is entirely financed. The territory this company will cover is Nebraska, and distributing agents will be located in every county of that state.

The Omaha plant will be a six-unit plant with a capacity of 600 cylinders a day. It will be in operation by the middle or end of July. For it $74,000 worth of machinery has already been ordered. Most of this comes from abroad.

Steel cabinets for holding the containers will be made here, also the lighting fixtures and apparatus for this new illuminant.

The plant will employ thirty-five experts at the start and will necessitate a headquarters force of fifteen. Ten of these will come from Missouri, bringing their families here. Several are already here and have rented homes.

The plant will cover the larger part of the block bought, and will consist of one-story brick buildings, except the office building. Purchase of the ground for the Blau-gas company was made by H. A. Tukey, chairman of the Commercial club real estate committee.

TOO EARLY FOR THE GRASS?

An Explanation of Low Prices at the Maryville Sale.

Summary—Twenty-six females sold for $2,639; average, $101.16; 8 bulls sold for $802.50; average, $100.31; 34 head sold for $3,432.50; average, $100.95.

The joint public sale of registered Aberdeen Angus cattle which was held at Maryville on Tuesday of this week by W. W. Andrews of Maryville and C. D. and E. F. Caldwell of Burlington Junction, did not receive the support it deserved.

The offering was made up of good honest cattle sold by reliable men and with all representations backed by a guarantee which assured the protection of every buyer. Those who were in attendance at the sale seemed to take the cattle at a price, but that price was so much below the most conservative expectations of the sellers that the auction was a gross disappointment. The only logical explanation of the conservatism among buyers is that the sale was held a little too early for an abundance of grass to be in sight. A lack of feed caused farmers and breeders to be more than usually conservative.

The top price of the sale was $190 paid by George Jones of Burlington Junction, Mo., for the 6-year-old Black Bird cow Summer Lea's Blackbird 2d and bull calf. This was one of the many fashionably bred animals of the offering which possessed superior individual merit. The top price on the bulls was $165, paid by W. R. Webb of Bendena, Kan., for the November yearling bull Black Set Lad C.

Mrs. G. B. McArthur of Pickering was in Maryville Thursday and Friday on business, and also visited with her sister-in-law, Mrs. M. J. Honnold.

Frank Thompson of Cedar Rapids, Ia., was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Bellows Wednesday.

EXPERT ADVISERS FOR FARMERS

Every County Will Have Chance to Get Man by Paying Three-Quarters of Expenses.

A plan whereby any county in Missouri, by paying three-fourths of the expenses, can have an expert agricultural adviser to help the farmers make the farm pay better has been evolved by the Missouri college of agriculture. The department of farm management has the matter in charge, and its head, D. H. Doane, is preparing to take up this work as soon as possible. The plan has been tried most successfully in one or two instances, and it is thought will "make good" in the state. Of the plan Mr. Doane says:

"The board of curators of the university April 2 authorized the college of agriculture to place a limited number of trained agricultural men in counties or localities during the present year.

"The men who will carry on this work will be known as country administration men and will be under the direction of the college of agriculture, but will devote their entire time to giving instruction and advice to the farmers in the communities in which they are employed.

"The college of agriculture will pay 25 per cent of each man's salary, the country or community receiving his services 75 per cent.

"The location of the few men who will be started this coming year will be determined by the interest shown and support promised by the citizens of the community concerned. Each section of the state will be given an opportunity to ask for the services of one of these men. It is hoped that ultimately every community will employ a county administration man.

"Farmers, bankers, commercial clubs and individuals may contribute to the support of this county adviser. The term of the contract must be for three years and the money must be guaranteed by a reputable financial firm, or individuals, to cover the period of the contract.

"For the past six years farm management work has been carried on in Missouri for the purpose of determining the problems and their solution that confront the farmers of this state. Careful investigations were made in reference to failures and successes as found on our farms. For the past two years results of these investigations have been given a practical test in nearly half of our 114 counties. These tests have been the successful management of farms.

"Farm management has increased the profits and built up the fertility of the soil. The results have been responsible for the great number of requests made for the services of our men. This demand has become so great that it is absolutely impossible to meet it. Consequently, this plan has been adopted as a possible way to reach a greater number of farmers with the instruction that has proven so profitable.

"Statements made by farmers who have been carrying on the work are the best testimony that could be offered. During farmers' week at Columbia one man said he had made $1,800 more than he had ever made before, as the result of farm management work on his farm. Another stated that he had made $1,500 more, and a third said: 'I moved to my farm three years ago and the first year's total income was a little over $400; the second year I started with the farm management work and my income was over $900; last year the income amounted to over $1,200.'

"These are but a few of the many statements that farmers are making all over the state of Missouri in reference to what business farm management, under the direction of the college, has done for them."

Letters have been sent out over the state to every community. Those counties or communities which show the greatest interest will get the first men, and the late ones may have to wait, as there are at present not enough men thoroughly prepared for this work to fill the demands of every county in Missouri.

Gibson on "The Freedmen," and the other by Mrs. B. F. Duncan on "India." A detailed report of the woman's Presbyterian meeting held at Grant City last week was given by Mrs. W. H. Crawford, who was sent to the meeting as a delegate. During the business session plans for raising money to be used for mission work were discussed. An unusually large attendance of the members prolonged the social hour. Refreshments were served by Mrs. W. H. Crawford, Mrs. H. T. Crane and Mrs. S. C. Hutchison. One new member was added, Mrs. J. Ten barrels of gasoline exploded at the depot and shocked the whole town.

At Creston the hail was much more severe than that which fell farther south, and many stones as large as hen eggs fell.

SWAT THE FLY—SWAT NOW!

One Now Means Nine Million in August, Dr. W. S. Wheeler Says.

The matter of keeping the city clean and sanitary is one which should engage the attention of all citizens. Killing the little housefly is one of the most effective means of accomplishing this end. Right now, before the extremely warm weather sets in, is the time to clean up, thus destroying the eggs and eliminating the flies before they're hatched.

These are the beliefs held by Dr. W. S. Wheeler, health commissioner of Kansas City, according to the Times.

A housefly, according to several authorities, multiplies itself 120 times in two weeks. It is clear then that for every fly you kill now you will receive an enormously large amount of interest in August. The same authorities give one fly a carrying capacity of more than three million germs.

The fly thrives on manure piles and other objectionable filth. Here the female lays her eggs, and here the young are hatched. Their feet are of a spongy material and are capable of collecting filth and germs. The fly you see walking about on your food may be wiping germs and filth from its feet.

Flies have a great deal to do with the spread of infectious diseases. These diseases only attack people when a germ is swallowed. Typhoid fever is an example. The fly comes from a typhoid patient to the table of a healthy man. He puts his feet in a glass or on a bit of bread. The germs are transferred. A day or two and the well man is ill.

Sanitation will kill the fly. It is averse to cleanliness. Chloride of lime should be used in the refuse bins. Flypaper and a swatter should be kept in the house and used. Food should be screened and fresh vegetables, fruit and meats washed thoroughly before being cooked. Do away with the litter and trash that collects in the back yards and cellars.

A peculiar fact about the fly is that it dislikes several odors. For example, sprigs of mignonette and honeysuckle will keep him away from rooms. Perfume acts as a poison, and it will not light on a person who uses it.

Campaigns against flies have been started in nearly all of the large cities of the country. Physicians in Kansas City say that at least 75 per cent of the deaths caused by typhoid fever can be averted if every house, all stables, yards and streets are thoroughly cleaned before the summer.

And remember, when you swat a fly now, you are killing nine million in August.

SHOULD BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY

Childish Mind, Groping in Darkness, Is Craving for Information That Is Denied It.

Every trace of useful information is carefully concealed from the very young child. A rattle, or at most a rubber doll, is its only plaything. As it grows older it is very slowly and gradually introduced to the various forms of the animal kingdom. Of the mysteries of numbers and of languages it has as yet no conception. Its constant questions are for the most part answered "humorously" and hence incorrectly, or they are not answered at all. This eternal "humor" is most galling of all. Why should a human infant be such an irresistible joke? The lower animals take their young seriously and train them from the start with a very definite purpose in view. Yet their possibilities are infinitesimal as compared with those of the average baby. And we sit calmly by and enjoy the "humor" of childhood and insist that the child is enjoying itself also, even though its little soul may be thirsting for information which is laughingly denied it. And we continue to put off the inevitable day when the child will have to take life seriously and hence, according to our tradition, sadly.

One important point which is quite overlooked by the upholders of the brainless child is the fact that nonsense and silliness are just as taxing to the infant mind as useful information would be. It requires no more mental effort to realize that A is A than to grasp the extraordinary fact that a mass of brownish softness is a "fuzzy ittle Teddy bear, yes it is." In fact, the letter A has a distinct advantage. And at a more advanced age it is certainly less puzzling to be told that five and five make ten than to have one's own respectable pink toes described as a series of pigs going to market or entering into the various other activities of life.—Sigmund Spaeth in Harper's Weekly.

THE FIRST GRAY HAIR SIGN OF AGE

Easy Way to Preserve Natural Color of the Hair and Make It Grow.

A harmless remedy, made from common garden sage, quickly restores gray hair to natural color. The care of the hair, to prevent it from losing its color and lustre, is just as important as to care for teeth to keep them from discoloring. Why spend money for cosmetics and creams to improve the complexion, and yet neglect your hair, when gray hair is even more conspicuous and suggestive of age than wrinkles or a poor complexion? Of the two, it is easier to preserve the natural color and beauty of the hair than it is to have a good complexion.

All that is necessary is the occasional use of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, a preparation of common garden Sage and Sulphur, combined with other valuable remedies for dry, harsh, faded hair, dandruff, itching scalp and falling hair. After a few applications of this simple, harmless remedy, your hair will gradually be restored to its natural color, in a short time the dandruff will be removed, and your hair will no longer come out but will start to grow as Nature intended it should.

Don't neglect your hair, for it goes further than anything else to make or mar your good looks. You can buy this remedy at any drug store for fifty cents a bottle, and your druggist will give your money back if you are not satisfied after using. Purchase a bottle today. You will never regret it when you realize the difference it will make in your appearance.

NO RECOGNITION FOR REBELS NOW

Unwarranted Killing of American Gunner Arouses Indignation.

WAS VIOLATION OF RULES OF WAR

Government May Take Measures to Obtain Reparation, Though no Immediate Action is Contemplated.

Washington, April 12.—The indignation of state department officials over the killing of Thomas Fountain, the American gunner, who was captured by the rebels at Parral, will prejudice any attempt on the part of the Mexican rebels to obtain recognition of belligerent rights, so necessary to a successful conduct of their campaign.

The state department did everything in its power to prevent the execution, which, in its opinion, was in violation of the rules of war of all civilized countries.

Call It Murder.

A telegram just received from American Consul Letcher at Chihuahua, said the consul had protested to the rebel chiefs against the execution of the death sentence against Fountain not only at Chihuahua, but at Parral, where the man was arrested.

In the opinion of the state department, the killing was deliberate murder. But it is recalled that in his proclamation, President Taft expressly warned Americans against participating in the revolution on either side, indicating plainly that they would do so at their own risk.

That, however, does not preclude the American government from taking measures to obtain reparation. Meanwhile there does not appear to be any immediate action in contemplation.

Orozco Denies Hostility.

It is regarded as rather a coincidence that at the time of Fountain's death, Orozco, the rebel commander-in-chief, directed a long statement to the state department. This might be regarded as the forerunner of an application for the recognition by the United States of the belligerency of the Mexican rebels.

In it Orozco expressly denied the existence of any feeling hostile to Americans on the part of the rebels and repudiated the proclamation which was widely circulated along the border recently bitterly attacking the Americans in Mexico.

To Head Off Rebels.

Nogales, Ariz., April 12.—To head off rebels the revolutionary commanders in Chihuahua may send into Sonora, the Mexican government now is concentrating a large force at Naco and Agua Prieta.

MISSOURI FRUIT CROP KILLED

One Grower Believes all Worth Shipping This Year Can be Put In One Car.

Columbia, Mo., April 12.—Reports from all parts of Missouri to W. W. Chenoweth, secretary of the state board of horticulture, indicate that the fruit crop of the state has been badly injured. The peach crop is almost entirely killed, even in the Brandsville-Koshkonong-Fruitville district, which is the only large commercial peach raising district in Missouri. Reports from conservative fruit men in that section indicate that very little fruit will be shipped out of the district this year. One man says he believes that all of the fruit worth shipping this year can be put into one car.

CHEMISTRY CLASS IN DANGER

OPEN CONVENTION WITH FIGHT

OPPOSING CHAIRMEN TRY TO BEGIN AT SAME TIME

Trops Used in Michigan to Preserve Order While Republican Committee Members Enter Hall.

Bay City, Mich., April 12.—The opposing chairmen attempted at the same moment to open the state Republican convention here and a fight followed.

W. D. Gordon of Midland, a Roosevelt committeeman, sprang to the stage and attempted to address the convention. He was hurled from the stage by J. F. Cromer of Marquette, a Taft man. Police and militia at this juncture forced back 100 men who sought to engage in the fight precipitated by Gordon and Cromer. All attempts to quiet the excited delegates seemed useless.

While troops held the front entrance to the armory against a crowd of 1,800 delegates and contested delegates to the convention, members of the state central committee were admitted to the building through a small side entrance.

The Taft members were headed by Robert H. Shields of Houghton, acting chairman and were followed into the armory by Chairman Knox and ex-Senator Albert J. Beveridge of Indiana, who also came through the side entrance.

The committee then elected Shields temporary chairman.

Roosevelt leaders conferred at a downtown hotel several squares distant, and prepared to go to the convention and seat their temporary chairman, Truman Newberry, of Detroit.

Militia, police and sergeants-at-arms received their instructions from the opposing factions. Shields ordered them to admit only those delegates with cards bearing the signature of Secretary Paul H. King of the state committee. Knox instructed the guards to allow no one to enter unless he carried a card bearing his signature.

The final battle will take place in Chicago. The Roosevelt delegates say their claims to the legality of the proceedings are in accord with the statutes of the state pertaining to party elections.

The Taft adherents base their claims on the fact of a majority of the state central committee and the subsequent result of their convention.

DRILLED A SAFE TO GET OPIUM

Frisco Officials Confiscate $40,000 Worth of Drug Claimed by Canton Bank.

San Francisco, April 12.—Opium valued at $40,000 was confiscated here by officials of the state board of pharmacy, who had to drill a safe to get it.

The consignment is all that could be found of $7,000,000 worth of opium which was on hand in San Francisco when the law prohibiting its importation went into effect three years ago. The time limit set for disposal of the opium on hand recently expired. After officials of the Canton bank, which claimed the consignment, had refused to open the safe, it was drilled.

MAJOR GEN. GRANT HAS PASSED AWAY

Death Came to Commander in New York at Age of 56.

SON OF FAMOUS WAR GENERAL

Was Graduated From West Point in 1871, While His Father Was Yet President—Would Have Retired May 30.

New York, April 12.—Maj. Gen. Frederick D. Grant, son of the famous general of the Civil war and himself commander of the department of the East, died at the Hotel Buckingham in this city about 12:40 a. m.

In 1908 Frederick D. Grant, the late president's eldest son, whose likeness to his father was weirdly striking was put in command of the military department of the East, with headquarters at Governors Island, New York.

Had not Gen. Leonard Wood been allowed to organize the Rough Riders, and thereby make his splash in the war with Spain, Gen. Grant would have been then the ranking officer of the army and, very probably, chief of staff. As it was, he would have retired on Decoration day, this year, whereas Gen. Wood will remain at the head of the army for 14 years, or until 1924.

Saw War When a Child.

May 30 is a date memorable in the Grant family before Decoration day originated, and even before the war opened. Gen. U. S. Grant remembered it each year of that struggle, because it was the birthday of "little Fred," who was 11 years old when the war opened.

Frederick D. Grant was graduated from West Point in 1871, while his father was president, and resigned 20 years later at the close of eight years' service on the frontier. Then, after serving as minister to Austria and as police commissioner of New York, he got back into the regular army by entering the war with Spain as a volunteer colonel.

In Field With Father.

He was 56 years old and had deserted the party of his father to become a Democrat. His brother, Ulysses S. Grant, Jr., is a Republican, having been a delegate to three recent conventions.

In Gen. Grant's memoirs he pays a tribute to Frederick's courage. The son was in the field with his father, and for an hour one day was under a heavy fire without showing the least intimation of fear. As the boy was only 12 or 13 years old at the time, the father's pride was stirred at the exhibition of his courage.

PLENTY OF IRON ORE IS IN SIGHT

Mine Expert Brings Interesting Figures Before House Committee.

TRUST DOES NOT CONTROL ALL

Says Birmingham District Contains Vast Areas as Yet Undeveloped and Available to Outside Concerns.

Washington, April 12.—Joseph Sellwood, an ore mine expert of Duluth, told the house steel investigation committee that the Lake Superior ore region contains 1,400,000,000 tons of available ore of which about 550,000,000 tons, excluding the Hill lease ores, are controlled by the United States Steel corporation.

Don H. Bacon, formerly of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company, declared that there were at present 400,000,000 tons of available ore owned by that company, now a subsidiary of the steel corporation. The Birmingham district, he said, contained vast areas of undeveloped ore.

"To compete in the steel business," said Mr. Bacon, "it would be necessary to have a plant with a capacity of 50,000 tons of pig iron a month. To make that amount and run for a period of 40 years would require 72,000,000 tons of ore. But I would want a guaranty of ore for 100 years, which would require 180,000,000 tons of ore."

Ore is in Sight.

"Could you get that ore today?" asked Representative Gardner. "That is, could you find that amount of ore, not now held by some other steel companies?"

"Yes," was the reply. "I think I could find it in the Birmingham district and such an amount could be found in one body and not scattered over separate areas."

"Yes, doubtless such areas or ore are available in what are known as the Hill lease lands to be surrendered by the steel corporation," Mr. Bacon replied. He further said lower grade ores are abundant all over the country and that modern invention and improved processes of manufacture were gradually reducing the metallic percent necessary in ore for manufacturing steel.

Lower Grade Ores Valuable.

As these processes progress the lower grade ores not now of value become useful, he added.

Ask as to the amount of ore existing in the area included under the Hill lease, Mr. Sellwood said it was at least 250,000,000 tons.

In this he included all the ore land owned by J. J. Hill and the property owned by others which went in on the lease to the steel corporation. This lease has been cancelled by the corporation, expiring in 1915, when all that ore will be available to concerns outside the steel corporation.

BREWSTER HEIRS LOSE $20,000

Attempt to Get Farm Deeded to Faithful Friend Ends in Defeat for Relatives.

Minneapolis, Kan., April 12.—A farm in Ottawa county, valued at $20,000, deeded to Frank Jaquier by Daniel W. Brewster, on agreement that Jaquier care for Brewster the last years of his life, and later claimed by a niece and nephew of Brewster, was awarded to Jaquier by a jury in the district court.

The heirs made an effort to prove that Brewster was of unsound mind when he gave Jaquier the farm, but were unsuccessful.

HAS BECOME MATTER OF JEST

Woman's Promise to "Obey" Husband, in Marriage Service, Perfunctory and Without Meaning.

With the advent of the female suffrage movement (the teaching of which cult may, when the movement gets somewhat stronger, be introduced into the common school system of the country) the word "obey" in the ordinary marriage service, already in disfavor with the leaders of the movement, will be shaken out of the prayer book, to be heard no more on sea or shore. As it is now the scant recognition this word receives after the wedding service is over is entirely perfunctory. James Douglas in London Opinion—in England the revolt against the word obey has already reached formidable proportions—says that the use and abuse of the word is continual and unblushing perjury in the courts of heaven—where marriages are made. To this he adds: "And nobody worries over it. It is taken for granted. Archdeacons wink at it, bishops chuckle over it, deans crack jokes over it. And with good reason, for their own wives break the vow of obedience as gayly as the wives of laymen. Is there one clergyman who will venture to proclaim from the pulpit that his wife invariably and unconditionally obeys him all the year round? We know there is not. How, then, can the clergy expect from laywomen what they dare not expect from their own helpmeets? As a rule, the vicar's wife is a masterful dame, and it is well known that sufferance is a badge of the cloth. Probably there are more henpecked husbands in orders than out of them. The traditional curate is a mild and timid being, who is born to obey."

HOW MOUNTAINS WERE NAMED

Interesting to Trace Derivation of the Famous Ranges of This Country.

Adirondacks: Derived from the Canienga (Mohawk) Iroquois language, in which the original form is ratirontaks, meaning "bark eaters."

Allegheny: A corruption of the Delaware Indian name for Allegheny and Ohio rivers, the meaning of the name being lost.

Appalachian: The name was given by the Spaniards under DeSoto, who derived it from the name of a neighboring tribe, the Apalachi. Brinton holds its radical to be the Muscogee apala, "great sea," or "great ocean," and that apalache is a compound of this word with the Muscogee personal participle "chi," and means "those by the sea."

Blue Ridge: So called from the hue which frequently envelops its distant summits.

Catskill: The mountains were called katsbergs by the Dutch, from the number of wildcats found in them, and the creek, which flows from the mountains, was called Katerskill, "tomcats creek."

Ozark: The aux arcs was said to refer to the bends in White river, and was applied to the Ozark mountains through which the river pursues a wandering course—in other words, to the mountains at the bends of the river.

Sierre Nevada: A Spanish term signifying "snow-clad range."—Geological Survey.

Surely Professional.

It was well known that the late Dr P. H. Brascome, though he demanded and got large fees from his wealthy clients, gave much of his valuable time to treating poor patients, says the New York Herald. One case of a laboring man came under his notice and he not only treated the man, visiting him every day and providing the necessary medicines free, but he managed also to see to it that the laborer's family did not suffer for food while the man was ill.

When the man got well again and went to work he sent out of his meager wages a grateful letter and enclosed a two dollar bill, which Dr Brascome, rather than offend the grateful man by returning, put into his pocket.

One of his colleagues happened to be present at the time and started to reproach him for being so "unprofessional" as to accept so small a fee.

"Why," said Dr. Brascome, "I took all the poor devil had. I guess that was professional enough."

The Circus Auctioneer.

An auctioneer who had grown gray in the work had been urged repeatedly to retire.

"Not till I get a chance to auction off a circus," he said. "That is the height of my ambition. It is the point every good auctioneer works for. Not many attain it, because there are not enough circuses to go around, but so long as a man wields the hammer he clings to the hope of getting a fling at a circus some day. I can't explain the fascination.

"Men who have sold circuses at auction tell me that it requires no more ability to sell lions and elephants than bonbon dishes. Maybe they are right, but circus managers must think otherwise, for of all the people who have goods to dispose of at auction the circus man is most particular about the qualifications and experience of his auctioneer."
